

Diet of the Leopard in the Western Cape

2. Name 3 methods that can be used to determine the diet of the leopard.
  - Studying kill sites, camera trap data and scat analysis.
3. Name 3 species that are commonly preyed upon by the leopard in the Western Cape.
  - Dassie (rock hyrax), klipspringer, grysbok, hares, porcupine
4. Fill in the missing word with regards to the differences between the 2 study areas.

Research data revealed that in the CEDERBERG, leopards mainly prey on dassies and Klipspringer, whereas in the BOLAND, in addition to dassies and klipspringer, a major component of the leopards' diet includes GRYSBOK and PORCUPINE.

5. Circle the correct answer

5.1 Baboons are a major component of leopard diet.

True

False

5.2 Livestock is a major component of the leopard diet.

True

False