LEOPARD TRUST

ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION PROGRAMME

The Cape Leopard Trust (CLT) is a research and conservation non-profit organization that also runs a unique environmental education programme in the Cederberg Mountains. Amongst other things, it offers camps for school and adult groups. The underlying goal for this programme is to help young people to develop an understanding of and connection with the natural world.

The CLT Environmental Camps are aimed at providing children between the ages of 10 and 18 with quality experiences that will kindle an interest in the wonders and diversity of life and teach them more about the wilderness and themselves.

ENVIRONMENTAL CAMPS

The Cederberg and the CLT's research on predators such as the threatened Cape mountain leopard are rich sources of educational material. Different themes can be explored depending on the nature of the group attending a camp. A variety of methods are used, ranging from observation exercises to scientific surveys to artistic expression. Adventure and exploration are emphasised through physical and emotional challenges such as hiking and sleeping out in the wild. We aim to give the children an experience that is stimulating on all levels.
